Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 13, 15-17 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pondman (4306696). Pondman discloses a breakaway support assembly for securing overhead lines 2 to a supporting structure 3 comprising:

1. a support connector 6 attached to said supporting structure 3 securing the assembly to the supporting structure 3
2. an overhead line connection point 4
3. a stranded link member 8/18/14/13 secured to the support connector at one end and secured to the overhead line connection point 4 at the other end
4. whereby the link member will yield when force in excess of the tensile strength of the link member is applied to the overhead line connection point.
5. a stabilizing assembly 16 which includes an overhead line connection point 4
 - a. one end of the stabilizing assembly is disposed to receive and secure one end of the link member
 - b. the other end of the assembly includes the overhead line connection point
6. the overhead line connection point 4 is a separate member secured to the stabilizing assembly 16

Art Unit: 3635

7. the link member has a lower tensile strength than the other components of the breakaway support assembly; see column 1 lines 50-55 and column 2, lines 45-50
8. means for attaching 19/20/4 the breakaway element to the overhead line
9. means for securing 6 said break away element 8/18/13/14 to the supporting structure 3
10. the breakaway element will yield upon the application of a load less than required to damage the supporting structure thus preventing damage to the supporting structure when the unintended force is applied to the breakaway support assembly

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 18 (is/are) rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pondman. It would have been obvious to compose the link member of corrosion resistant metal to protect the system against all types of weather conditions.

ALLOWABLE SUBJECT MATTER

Claims 14, 19-21 and 25 are objected to as depending upon a rejected base claim but would be considered allowable if amended to include the limitations of the rejected claim and any intervening claims

Claims ~~6~~ 12 and 22-23 are allowable over the prior art of record.

Applicant's are moot in view of the new ground of rejection.

Art Unit: 3635

Applicant's ^{Amendment} necessitated the new ground of rejection. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
